128th Community Council

Vision

Encourage greater awareness and mutual support of the military, business and civic communities through engagement and education.

Mission

Promote military, business and civic success through involvement and mutual support of mission and goals.

Goals

Educate Council members on the 128th ARW's mission and challenges

Advocate the mutual benefits of supporting the military, business and civic communities

Promote the 128th ARW mission in policy and program development, business and civic community

Why Join the Council?

First and foremost, we believe it is our duty to support the brave men and women in our armed forces. They risk their lives so that we may live free from foreign threats.

Secondly, our long lasting and mutually beneficial relationship has an estimated $32 million economic impact on our local economy. This means both the greater Milwaukee area and the 128th ARW, must rely on each other for economic growth and wellbeing.

We feel strongly in keeping the 128th ARW in our community with the best equipment to perform their mission.

What is the purpose of the Council?

The Council's purpose is to work closely with military leadership to assist or coordinate specific needs of airman. The Council educates and advises its members of the current state of the 128th ARW and political issues.

How does the Council accomplish its mission?

We accomplish our mission by connecting the business and civic communities with the military community to focus on education, collaboration and programs to improve the quality of life in the greater Milwaukee area.

The Council meets quarterly and during special events. The Council's board manages administrative and coordinates with members.

128th Air Refueling Wing

The 128th Air Refueling Wing, Wisconsin Air National Guard, has had a long and illustrious record of service to the State of Wisconsin and the United States of America. From natural disasters to service in the Korean War, Desert Storm, Restore Hope and Deny Flight, the men and women of the 128th Air Refueling Wing have responded to changing world events and tasking requirements with dignity, honor and courage.

The 128th ARW continues to successfully support many on-going operations abroad, along with continuing to accomplish its mission at home. With hopes high for true lasting peace throughout the world, but with the understanding that they would be called upon again, members of the 128th train for another conflict they hope will never come.

The Commander of the 128th Air Refueling Wing, General Mitchell Field, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He is responsible for more than 900 personnel assigned to the Wing who support the worldwide mission and enable the combat employment of the unit's ten KC-135 Stratotankers.
